The PRESIDENT. There are four minutes remaining.

Mr. BENTON. I am therefore against it because it is a deception upon ourselves. I am against leaving to the President what I myself, in my legislative capacity, can do and ought to do, even in a case where a President can act, and much more in a case where it is to be referred in the line down to a clerk.

But I am against it for the sake of the people. These country for the purpose of calling up all the details of the country for the purpose of calling up all the details of the country, and passing spon them. They are for that purpose courts of justice, and, like every other court of justice, should have a time fixed in the law, which everbody should know and understand beforehand, which all persons can conform themselves to, and where they can appear at a known period established by law, and at least.

The duel for the present, for the purpose of taking up the fortification bill.

The question being taken on the motion of the senator from Virginia, the bill was laid on the table.

FORTIFICATION SILL.

On motion by Mr. HUNTER, the Senate, as in committee of the whole, proceeded to the consideration of the mittee of the whole, proceeded to the considerations in the United States, for the year ending June 30, 1851.

Mr. H and C As time is precious, I will state a fact that will perpage induce the Senate to pass this bill at will perpage induce the Senate to pass this bill at once. The Committee on Finance have made no amendment to the bill at all.

The bill was then reported to the Senate without
